Jack Atkin Carries a Great Impost to Easy Victory
—Hawkama Defeats Aunt Rose—Roseburg
II. Wins and Is in Demand.

New Orleans, La., February 22.—For the first time in many weeks conditions were propitious for enjoyable sport and as secretary Maginn had striven to his utmost to bring about a meeting of the better class of horses and had succeeded, today's program was the equal of any offered this season and attracted a monster crowd. The Martha Washington Stakes for two-year-olds at three and a half furlongs was the principal feature from a monetary point of view, but the handicap that followed, in which some of the best sprinters at the track were engaged, held out the most promise of an exciting contest. An added attraction to the race was the fact that Jack Atkin was asked to shoulder 145 pounds, the heaviest impost ever allotted a racer at any winter track. Many doubted his ability to concede this big chunk of weight to his opponents, but the doubting ones quickly had their illusion dispelled by the Schreiber crack's grand performance in leading for the entire way and winning without the semblance of a great effort. In fact, McDaniel, his rider, had him under stent restraint and practically allowed Jack Atkin to canter through the final furlong. His easy victory will cause the secretary to add at least five pounds to his impost in future handicaps. As a matter of fact he will probably have to carry 150 pounds, including a five pounds penalty, in his next start, the Orleans Handicap, to be run next Wednesday.

The open aspect of the Martha Washington Stakes caused four additional ones to be carded as starters before post time, bringing the total number of starters up to eleven and giving the stake a net value of $1,710 to the winner. It resulted in one of the greatest upsets of the afternoon, inasmuch as Miss Highland, from the Schreiber barn, and entirely neglected in the betting, spreadeagled her opponents after getting fully settled in her stride. Anne McGee, coupled with Elizabeth Harwood as the Corrigan entry, landed second place in advance of After All, one of the added starters. Arionette, the favorite, ran fairly well but failed to finish in the money. In Miss Highland's last start she was the recipient of extensive backing, but on that occasion was away badly and her rider, G. Swain, seeing the futility of attempting to wear down the leaders, wisely eased her up. Her victory added further lustre to the already wide fame of her sire, Sain, Schreiber's premier stallion.

The condensed history of the Martha Washington Stakes is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	Wt.	Jockey.	Val.	Time.
1905	Andryne	116	W. Hicks	$1,010	1:52 1/2
1906	Benny	115	L. Smith	1,030	1:50 1/2
1907	Mollie Montrose	115	Garner	1,210	1:47 1/2
1908	Miss Highland	110	L. Smith	1,710	1:43 1/2

John Carroll, aided by a splendid ride, made a show of the horses that opposed him in the sixth race, for which Oraculum and Lady Anne were the most fancied. Lee, his rider, kept him under restraint for the first three furlongs and then took him close to the inner rail, thereby saving at least fifteen lengths on the stretch turn, which ultimately resulted in his easy victory. Bellwether outstayed E. T. Shipp in the closing drive and the favorites were beaten off.

After many unsuccessful attempts, Juggler finally managed to win a purse when he led a good band of selling platers home in the closing race, for which he was an odds-on favorite. This race was the best contest of the afternoon, the seven starters running in a close bunch all the way. The proverbial blanket would have covered them for the first mile.

Hawkama's sudden return to good form in the third race, when he beat Aunt Rose and five others, left an unsavory taste and the officials at once began an investigation as to the cause of his bad showing in his last start. On that occasion he was ridden by jockey W. Ott, was a strong favorite and finished beaten off. Today, piloted by jockey Skirvin, he showed superior speed from the start and won from end to end.

The full course steeplechase resulted in a closely run affair, with Waterway returned the winner over Dr. Heard, with Profitable in third place. There was a heavy plunge on Fairy Flush, but after being in forward contention, she dropped to a rear position and pulled up very lame.

In the opening race for youngsters, Roseburg II. again demonstrated that he is a colt of more than ordinary merit by his impressive performance. He was away in a rearward position, but gamely responded to urging and gradually wore the leaders down and in the final drive outstayed Nasturtia. Vic Britton immediately began negotiations with owner McCarren for the transfer of the colt. Britton offered McCarren $5,000 for the youngster, but this was refused, McCarren holding out for $8,000. Vic Britton left tonight for Lexington, Ky., to confer with the owners of R. C. Rann, with a view to his purchase. R. C. Rann is at present being handled by J. C. Milam and is now being put through his training paces at the Fair Grounds.

Jockey R. McDaniel was added to the list of the idle riders by a suspension of five days from the starter.

THREE SUCCESSFUL WESTERN STABLES.

Last Year's Winnings of the Horses Owned by L. A. Cella, Chinn & Forsythe and P. Dunne.

L. A. Cella campaigned many horses last year and achieved a fairly satisfactory measure of success without any horse in his stable standing in the clear as something more than useful. The two-year-old filly, Rustle, was his principal money-gainer with the strenuous record of eleven races won out of thirty-three starts. Next to her in money won was Hyperion II., a hard horse to beat in his class when thoroughly fit. Ben Strong, Balla, Marathon, Miss Strome and Tivolini all made substantial contributions to the stable's total. From what his two-year-olds are doing at New Orleans it may be surmised that his stable will even do better in 1908. The stable earnings of 1907 were:

Like L. A. Cella, Chinn & Forsythe raced a big band of horses last year and had they been wise enough to have kept Montgomery, would have ranked high up in the list of winning owners. Even as it was, with a total of $34,365 as against $22,100 won in 1906, they did not do badly by any means. Montgomery had won $10,165 for them before he was sold and was their chief winner. Dorante's success in the Nursery Handicap at Belmont Park gave him second place in their winning account and the speedy filly, Berry Maid, came next, no other in their stable winning as much as $2,000, although Rio Grande came close to that sum. The financial record of the stable for 1907 was:

It has been some years since Pat Dunne owned a really high-class horse, but he always contrives to have some in his stable that can win races and, year after year, has always been able to make a respectable showing of stable earnings. His sturdy Star Shoot gelding, Lens, was his principal money winner, but Boserrian was not far behind Lens in that particular, and Warner Griswell, Dainty Belle, Envoy, Sea Salt, Mackerel, Solly M., Airship and Severus all paid their way with a surplus over. The stable winnings for the year were as follows:

JACK ATKIN GIVEN A HEAVY BURDEN.

New Orleans, La., February 22.—Weights for the Orleans Handicap, to be run Wednesday next, were announced today. It is at six furlongs and all the best short distance racers in training are engaged. Jack Atkin is given top weight, 145, not including his five-pound penalty for his victory today. Next in order to him are Jacobite, 137; Chapultepec, 135; Colloquy, 120; Oraculum, 117; Goldproof, 119; John Carroll, 110; Lens, Angelus, Tiling and Prince Ahmed, 105.

VENERABLE TURFMEN BRAVED THE STORM.

Made Personal Sacrifices and Risked Lives to Attend Meeting at Albany—Trainer Rogers Ill.

New York, February 20.—The most impressive assemblage of representative men now responsible for the welfare of the turf went to Albany yesterday to oppose by word of mouth and actual presence the attack on the Percy-Gray bill. To the thoughtful observer the fact that old men like J. B. Haggin and James R. Keene actually risked their lives by a trip of such duration begun and ended in one of the heaviest snow storms of the winter, made a strong impression. August Belmont, H. K. Knapp, Andrew Miller, Harry Payne Whitney, J. H. Alexander, John F. Cowdin, J. C. Bishop, P. J. Dwyer, J. W. Green, S. S. Howland, H. T. Oxnard, Schuyler L. Parsons, John Sanford and many others well known as staunch defenders of the turf as now conducted were on the train, as well as about twenty-five newspaper men, representing the various journals.

The reception accorded Mr. Keene, when he with visible reluctance came forward from his seat and stood before the joint committees, ready to answer any question which might be put to him, was something that only a great operative or theatrical star would be accustomed to. His popularity, always unbounded, seemed greater than ever yesterday. He made no bones about the effect on the business interests if the Agnew bill became a law. He asserted that it meant the depreciation in values of horseflesh to the extent of $50,000,000. He declared that 750,000 transient visitors went to the New York tracks in the course of a year and this meant the expenditure of $15,000,000. The effect of the proposed bill would mean that while a man who went to the track and made a bet would be arrested and sent to prison for a year, there was no penalty for a man who would go to a poolroom for the same purpose. This was also the point brought out by Mr. Auerbach of counsel for the Jockey Club and it made a decided impression on the committee and on the fair minded auditors, of whom there were at least a thousand present.

The committee seemed fair and its chairman almost pleaded to Mr. Belmont for some suggestion whereby the present alleged evils could be further minimized. At the moment Mr. Belmont had no suggestion to offer, but, after consultation with some of his associates of the Jockey Club stewards, he informed the chairman that a special meeting would be called by the stewards for the purpose of considering some plan which would meet with the favor of the committee.

One of the best points of the hearing was made by Mr. Oxnard, who pointed out that when he was a beet sugar grower he was promised a subsidy by the United States government for fourteen years, but that after two years this was lost and he warned the agricultural societies not to rely on the promises of those who said that they would make an appropriation each year to compensate for the loss of the five per cent. tax on racing receipts. Newspaper men of experience could see that there was a disposition on the part of some of the committees not to be drastic in whatever law may be passed and certain questions were asked the speakers from time to time which created a desire on the part of the questioners to bring out something in favor of existing laws. As an instance of how quickly a certain kind of divine will impugn the motives of one opposed to him, this is a fact: A clergyman excitedly exclaimed to John F. Cowdin, a prominent member of the National Hunt and Steeplechase Association: "Why, that man Senator Cassidy must be bribed; I know he is from the questions he is asking." His auditor indignantly checked the divine, saying: "You have no right to asperse the character of a man simply because he disagrees with you."

Another clergyman, Crafts, he, whose name is constantly cropping up in these fights against the turf, made several astounding statements as to the various states which had declared against racing by legislation, enumerating several which are in fact the home of the thoroughbred. Crafts also said that Emperor William of Germany, had prosecuted and sent to prison a number of bookmakers, but did not say that these were poolroom keepers. As a matter of fact, Germany is second only to France in the matter of encouraging racing, because it is plain to Emperor William that that is the surest way to improve the general-purpose horse and, especially the cavalry horse.

At the next meeting of the committee, set for March 4, Frank S. Black, former governor of New York, will speak for the agricultural interests on the racing bills. It was a shrewd move to secure Mr. Black, who rates as the best lawyer who ever sat in the governor's chair at Albany. It is in effect pitting one governor against one who was governor.

Illustrating the democratic demeanor of such men as James R. Keene and Harry Payne Whitney, I was witness to the following scenes on this trip to Albany. The snow was ankle deep and Mr. Keene, umbrella hoisted, was slowly making his way up the street from the depot. He was intercepted by a photographer who had traveled on the train from New York expressly to get some pictures. Mr. Keene at first did everything he could to avoid having his picture taken, but when another newspaper man interceded for the young photographer, saying that his livelihood depended upon his success in this and other efforts of like nature, Mr. Keene at once gave the young fellow all the chance

MEELICK A DERBY WINNER.

LEADS HIS OPPONENTS FOR THE CALIFORNIA CLASSIC FROM END TO END.

Peter Sterling Fails Signally in the Waterhouse Cup Preliminary and Runs Unplaced—Great Crowd Views the Racing.

Oakland, Cal., February 22.—Derby Day of 1908 at Oakland will go down into turf history as the banner day of racing on a California race course. All records in the matter of attendance and number of layers engaged were broken. The forty-three books doing business were wholly unable to supply the wants of the speculatively inclined public. Today's card was high-class. Eight of the best three-year-olds in training faced the starter for the big event, the California Derby at one mile and a quarter, including at least one turf star of great magnitude in the Madden-bred Planudes—Hithyla colt, Meelick, which started a heavily backed odds-on favorite. Of the others Stanley Fay and Early Tide, coupled with Creston as the De Arman entry, were next fancied. In the actual running there was only one horse in the race and that was Meelick, which won all the way with supreme ease. Dugan was seemingly able to restrain the gigantic chestnut back with his opponents and finished pulling him up to a walk four lengths in front of the resolute-going Stanley Fay, which earned a game second in the closing strides from Early Tide, the game and persistent topweight. But for too close and strenuous early pursuit of the winner Early Tide might have scored second place.

The tabulated history of the California Derby is as follows:

Year.	Winner.	Wt.	Jockey.	Val.	Time.
1897	Scarborough	122	Coady	$3,885	2:11 1/4
1898	Traverser	122	Clayton	3,875	2:08 1/4

1908	Meelick	122	E. Dugan	5,900	2:06 1/4

Stake taken over by the California Jockey Club when it purchased the tracks and rights of rival organizations.

There was an attractive sidelight to the big feature, the Waterhouse Cup Preliminary at one mile and three-quarters, which resulted in the most mystifying upset of the present meeting in the defeat of Peter Sterling. The Trotter horse was meeting a band of inferior class horses on even terms in the matter of weights and at a distance particularly suitable to a rating stayer, such as he has proven himself to be. With Dugan up, Peter Sterling seemed the best bet of the card and he was backed almost off the boards.

The remainder of the card furnished high-class sport, and with the successes of practically four favorites, the afternoon's racing was very satisfactory.

Barney Schreiber resumed his position in the big ring today after an absence of ten days on account of illness. Mr. Schreiber is far from being a well man and his condition is exciting concern among his friends.

IMMENSE CROWD VISITS SANTA ANITA PARK.

Long-Distance Race the Attraction Which Brings Out Record Attendance—Miller Wins Cheers.

Los Angeles, Cal., February 22.—The crowd that visited Santa Anita Park today broke all records for southern California racing attendance, the grandstand, lawn and betting ring being full and overflowing. The cut-in today saw twenty-three books on the block and they did the greatest day's business of the present meeting.

The Norfolk Handicap at four miles, with $2,000 added and a magnificent silver cup, went to Big Bow. There was more contention at the end than was expected, as Livius finished with a belated rush after trailing far back for three and one-half miles.

Miller's skillful exhibition of determination on Marster drew forth vociferous applause from the crowd and was the best display of jockeyship seen here this season.

Charles W. Gates and party arrived last night from Goldfield, Nevada, and were at the track today, guests of John Lambert, of Pasadena. Mr. Gates is awaiting the arrival of his father, John W. Gates, who is expected here in two or three days and will remain a week after his arrival.

Light Wool was backed to the exclusion of everything else in the first race and won easily from Brawnny Lad and Dredger. Sanfara, the second choice, ran well for the first half and then tired and does not like a heavy track.

The finish of the second race was close, in that Colored Lady and Horace H. were but heads apart as they passed the judges' stand, the former man-aging to outstay the latter in a fierce drive.

Lee Harrison II. had to be ridden out at the end to withstand the closing rush of Sink Spring. Halton set a fast pace for five furlongs but tired under his weight and was lucky to save third place from Merrill, which finished resolutely under punishment.

73368 SIXTH RACE—1 Mile. (69104—1:38½—4—95.) Purse $500. 3-year-olds and upward. Allowances. Net value to winner $400.

Went to post at 4:02. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won handily; second and third driving. Timothy Wen drew out and won all the way; but finished slightly tiring. Kruka was in forward pursuit throughout, went wide on the stretch turn, then came with a belated rush and ran a cracking race. Billy Pullman met with interference on the first turn and lost ground and, after nearest and strenuous pursuit of the winner, tired finally. Ovelando, never dangerous, lacked respectable speed and ran a bad race. Joe Nealon, away poorly, closed a moderate gap and is improving. Senator Beckham was always outpaced. Scratched—73372 Mammie Stanhope, 80.
Overweights—Billy Pullman, 5 pounds; Royal Maxim, 1; The Mouser, 3.

Winner—Ch. c. by Hapsburg—Florida Rose (trained by H. McCarren Jr.).
Went to post at 2:00. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won driving; second and third the same. Roseburg II. ran as if much the best, was away poorly on the extreme outside and forced to go wide throughout, but moved up steadily and fast, wearing the leaders down in the last sixteenth and got up in the last few strides. Nasturia, weakly ridden and swerving badly in the stretch, was going fast at the end and would have won in a few more strides. Brougham, saving much ground for the entire trip, ran a good race and finished resolutely. Hammock Boy, away fast and showing the most early speed, interfered sharply with his nearest attendants in the first quarter and tired badly in the last furlong. Potato was close up at the finish. Lady Leota quit after going a quarter. Tony W. ran below his best form and cut do much better. Watkins showed a brief flash of speed.
Scratched—73354 My Lady Frances, 100; 73353 Grotto, 100.
Overweights—Lady Leota, 2 pounds; Autumn Maid, 5.

Winner—B. g. by Waterlevel—Runaway (trained by H. Flippin).
Went to post at 2:34. At post 3 minutes. Start good. Won handily; second and third driving. Waterway was in a forward position from the start and, when called on, moved up fast and raced Dr. Heard into defeat, then won going away. Dr. Heard was much used in the early racing and lost ground by going wide, but ran a good race and stayed well in the final drive. Profitable, poorly ridden and kept too far back for the first ten jumps, finished fast and outstayed Fairy Flush at the end. The latter had to be taken back repeatedly to avoid interference and showed improvement. Dawson tired badly after going one turn of the field. Galt, forced to go wide all the way, ran a good race. Itacatiara ran a bad race and can do much better.

73351 THIRD RACE—7 1-2 Mile. (66928—1:26—3—87.) $400 added. 3-year-olds and upward. Selling. Net value to winner $335.

Winner—B. g. by Hawkswick—Amaranth (trained by E. J. Gildersleeve).
Went to post at 3:03. At post 2 minutes. Start good. Won handily; second driving; third the same. Hawkama, away forwardly, showed much the most speed throughout and was well in hand at the end. Aunt Rose propped slightly at the start and was away slowly, but moved up fast and was in closest pursuit nearly all the way and finished gamely. El Dorado was shuffled back in the first quarter and came wide into the stretch, but finished with a rush. Halbar, from a slow beginning, closed a big gap and would have been third in a few more strides. Apache tired after going five furlongs. Zagg and Phil Finch will improve. The winner was entered for $1,100; no bid.
Overweights—Aunt Rose, 1 pound; Halbar, 3.

Anne GEE, always close up, saved ground when turning into the stretch and finished gamely. After All closed a big gap from a slow beginning and was gaining fast at the end. Arionette showed early speed, but tired in the last sixteenth. Elizabeth Harwood had no mishaps and can do much better. The others were never serious factors.

Jack Atkin set a fast pace in the early running and came away in the stretch to win as his rider pleased. Cooney K. was in nearest and game pursuit all the way and put up an extra good effort. Old Honesty began slowly, but closed a big gap and, finishing fast, would have been second in a few more strides. Cablegram was well up for a half, but tired near the end. Colloquy ran as if short. Convolvo will improve. Overweights—Cablegram, 1 pound.
